A Tonight, after the reception

START WITH

“I want to see Klara and the Sun tonight, somewhere close to downtown.”

IT WILL ASK. ANSWER LIKE THIS —

- “Nothing more than 15 miles out.”
- “It has to start after 8, and I want to be back by midnight.”
- “Just one seat, near the middle — not the front rows.”

Watch the side panel: what you say turns into constraints.

Today is Tuesday, 3 November 2026. Films and cinemas are real; showtimes and seats are simulated.

B IMAX night with a co-author

START WITH

“My co-author and I want to see Street Fighter in IMAX on Thursday night.”

IT WILL ASK. ANSWER LIKE THIS —

- “I'm not driving more than 15 miles.”
- “After 6:30, and out by 11.”
- “Two seats together, not the front rows.”

This one cannot be booked as asked. Watch it notice, and back out.

C Family matinee before the flight

MAESTRO · UIST 2026

“I'm taking two kids to a movie on Thursday afternoon.”

IT WILL ASK. ANSWER LIKE THIS —

- “It has to be PG or under, and shorter is better.”
- “We need to be out by 5 for a flight.”
- “Three seats together, not the front rows.”

Nothing here blocks anything — watch it re-sort instead.
